

400

A technical drawing of a vertical rectangular component. It features two rectangular protrusions on its front face, one near the top and one near the bottom. The overall height of the component is indicated by a vertical dimension line on the left, and the width of the protrusions is indicated by a horizontal dimension line at the bottom.

80

332

A technical drawing of a vertical rectangular component. It features two circular holes, one near the top and one near the bottom. The overall height of the component is indicated by a vertical dimension line on the right, and the width of the component is indicated by a horizontal dimension line at the bottom.

40